

Our Role in Ensuring Economic Security

1. Elevators and escalators are essential means of transportation for people's daily lives, providing a safe and comfortable living environment. Fujitec is committed to innovative research and technology development to improve comfort and convenience while providing environmentally friendly products that lessen the burden on planet Earth. Furthermore, by introducing information and environmental technologies such as AI and IoT to elevators and escalators, Fujitec contributes to the enhancement of urban functions.
2. As the sole specialist manufacturer of elevators and escalators in Japan, Fujitec has established an integrated system to handle sales, research, development, production, installation and maintenance of elevators and escalators. The market extends not only to Japan but also to the global market.
3. Elevators and escalators play a crucial role in our society's social infrastructure, serving as an essential mode of transportation for moving around in tall and expanding cities. They also offer advanced services, such as remote monitoring systems and smartphone connectivity, which are crucial in establishing an emergency response system for times of large-scale disasters.
4. Our products are delivered to government buildings as well as facilities that are critical to economic security measures.
5. Elevators and escalators throughout the country are constantly monitored via remote monitoring systems, making them critical infrastructure for cyber security.
